Many Articles Filed For Warrant

Andover's town warrant promises again this year to be quite sizable, as with eight days remaining in which to file articles, the town clerk's office has already been very busy receiving petitions. There are no articles to date asking very substantial sums of money for unusual purposes, but there are many articles seeking small sums.

Articles filed by the Board of Public Works to date ask: $300 for kerosene-heated asphalt kettle, $250 for a three-inch self-priming centrifugal pump, $325 for a cold patch mixer, $2500 for new sidewalks, $16,000 for material, supervision and truck hire to supplement Federal and town welfare labor, $5000 for hard-surfacing roads, $525 for a sidewalk and park roller, $600 for truck replacement, $500 for road hone, $1,000 for Chapter 90 maintenance work, $430 for a lawnmower, $820 for a chlorinator, $656 for runabout truck replacement, and $750 for a lean-to shed for snow equipment to adjoin the new truck garage.

It is understood that articles will be submitted asking that the terms of the town treasurer and the tax collector be changed from one to three years. Another submitted already would give the B. P. W. power to issue permits to registered voters of Andover and their families allowing them to boat and fish in Haggetts pond from May first to October 15th. The town will also be asked to accept a $10,000 fund for poor relief from the Shaw estate. The planning board is recommending $150 for land acquiring to straighten Osgood street near Blanchard street.

Purchase of privately-installed water mains mentioned in last week's issue will cost: Cheever Circle and Cabot road $3241.06, Appletree Lane (Dunn) $2377.50, and Dartmouth road (Cairns) $600.50. There will also be articles asking acceptance of these roads.

Prenomination Campaign Ends Tonight

Seven New Candidates Enter Race

The last few days of Andover's pre-nomination campaign produced several last-minute candidates, all of whom must file their papers by five tonight to get their names on the ballot. The B. P. W., school committee and tree warden's races remained the chief points of interest.

Added to the public works race were the names of Arthur E. Steinert and George R. Cairns, both Shawsheen village contractors, the latter of whom is the developer of Shawsheen Heights and Lincoln Circle.

Harold C. Dunn of 93 Salem street, Clarence White of 5 Bartlett street, and Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan of 27 Wolcott avenue took out papers for school committee.

Thomas D. Taylor of 79 Lowell street, prominent in state and federal tree work, and Everett D. Burton of 20 Pasho street, former local manager of the Cross coal company, took out papers for tree warden.

There was no activity in the other races this week.

School Board Asks Total Of $184,847

An appropriation which will be $3,519.87 higher than last year's but $2,742.04 lower than the school board wanted last year, will be requested this year, the board decided last Thursday.

The committee, at the suggestion of the Andover Ministers' association, decided to close the schools on Good Friday afternoon.

Miss Margaret Cronin, dental hygienist, was granted a leave of absence due to ill health.

BLAZE THIS MORNING BADLY DAMAGES SHAWSHEEN APARTMENTS

Surette Studio

Firemen from Lawrence, North Andover and North Reading were called to aid this morning in a blaze which threatened to destroy the entire interior of the Argyle apartments in Shawsheen village. By eleven o'clock the blaze seemed well under control after a fight of an hour and a half.

Box 63 was sounded at 9:30 and shortly after Box 28 summoned the Vale callmen. The North Andover department filled in at the station while four Lawrence pieces, including a ladder truck, went to the scene. A North Reading piece later replaced North Andover at the station, the latter going to the blaze.

No estimate of the damage was available at press time. The building and land is assessed at $16,575. An old building, it formerly was the town farm building but had been made into a modern apartment structure owned by the Andover-Shawsheen Realty company.

A large crew of volunteer workers aided in removing furniture and other personal effects from the building. About 20 people reside there, the families of Carl Gregg, H. W. Ellms, James Carney, Henry Kaveney, H. E. French, Jr., H. A. Neilson, Anna Grabner and Lionel Weaver.

Driver Wins Medal

Leo P. Driscoll, driver of the parcel post truck in Andover for over ten years, was this week awarded a gold medal by the post office department for not having had an accident in the past five years. Mr. Driscoll's record to date is perfect, since he has not had any accidents in his entire term of service.

REGISTRATIONS NEXT WEEK

The Board of Registrars will hold two meetings for registration of voters next week. On Tuesday they will meet at the Administration building in Shawsheen from 7 to 9 p. m., and on Thursday at the Grange hall the same hours.

Grange, Grown Seven-Fold, To Mark Fifty Years Of Progress

A large and enthusiastic meeting of those interested in founding a Grange for the patrons of husbandry in Andover was held in the West church chapel Friday evening, February 7, 1890. Tuesday evening, February 6, 1940, a larger and even more enthusiastic group will meet in the Grange hall to observe the fiftieth anniversary of the organization which has grown from the first twenty-five charter members to a membership of over one hundred and seventy-five.

After the banquet which will be served at seven o'clock in the lower hall, Master Floyd Darby will give the address of welcome. Greetings from the town of Andover will be given by Howell F. Shepard, chairman of the Selectmen, and greetings from the Massachusetts State Grange will be given by their representative. Presentation of the twenty-five and fifty year silver and gold star certificates will be presented by Charles M. Gardner, High Priest of Memetre National Grange, and Miss Madeleine Hewes will talk on "Thirty-two Years of History in the Andover Grange." Remarks will be offered by Nathan C. Hamblin, Rev. Newman Matthews and Charles M. Gardner.

The entertainment will include a solo by J. Everett Collins accompanied by Marion Abbott at the piano; a reading by Betty Campbell Saunders and violin solos by Miss Sylvia Robson accompanied by Avis Robson.

Master Floyd Darby, J. Harry Playdon, Earle Ferguson and Arthur Lewis compose the program committee. Harry C. Dawson will be the toastmaster.

Abbot Cheever

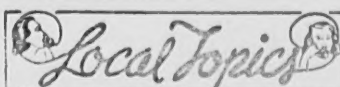

Doing P. O. Mural

Abbot Cheever, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Cheever of Chestnut street, has been named to do a mural decoration at the Madison, Conn., post office, his preliminary drawings having been approved by the Section of Fine Arts, Public Buildings Administration of the Federal Government. The appointment came as a result of the honorable mention he received in a recent National Post Office competition.

In approving the drawings, the administrator said: "I wish to congratulate you on the handsome quality of the designs and the selection of this spirited subject matter." The mural, which will be 12 feet by 5 feet, will show Colonial farmers gathering seaweed from the Sound. The seaweed was used in the field for fertilizer in the olden days. Mr. Cheever drew from the manuscript of Rev. David W. Field for his subject. He will have eight months in which to do the mural.

The local artist went to Philadelphia Saturday to attend a preview of the annual show of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Mr. Cheever's picture of salmon which was on exhibit at the Addison Gallery last summer is among those being displayed.

—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hood and family have moved from Salem street to their recently purchased home on Abbot street.

—Douglas Howe of Shawsheen, Herbron academy student, has received Class B from Dr. R. L. Hunt which means that he has received a mark of 80 per cent or over in all his studies.

—Cadet William P. Foster of this town has just been cited for outstanding performance of duties according to Special Orders published at the Winter Home of Riverside Military academy. He has been named winner of a Merit Tibbon award and has been commended before the Corps of Cadets for his fine record.

—Mrs. Clayton Northey of Rocky Hill road has returned from a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Carlton White of Dedham.

—The Fred T. Harrington farm on Osgood street consisting of house and two barns and 48 acres of land has been sold to Glen W. Grant of Andover through the Fred E. Cheever Real Estate agency.

—Miles Ward has sold the last available lot on the easterly side of Stratford road to Robert B. Hatton of Andover. This makes the sixth lot in that development sold by the Fred E. Cheever agency.

$29.00?

Taxpayers are breathing a little more easy this year than they have in the past, because to date there have been few large special requests for appropriations and the departmental budgets in some cases are lower and in no case materially higher than they were a year ago. This combined with the fact that we have a governor now who is paring expenditures leads to the hope that the tax rate will not exceed last year's.

But there is a very real danger in this situation. Having things go good is often a temptation to let them go bad through lack of interest, overconfidence, and a trust-to-luck attitude. No less vigilance is required this year than was required last year or any of the last few years. Remember this: the 1939 tax rate of $30 was the highest in the town's history. To allow our expenditures this year to come up to last year's means that we're willing to continue under this $30 tax rate. If it were necessary, it would be all right to pay a $30 tax rate, but no rate is justifiable if it includes items which do not have a strong basis of necessity behind them.

ROY A. DANIELS

Electrical Contractor

78 Chestnut St. Andover

Phone 451

What we must keep in mind this year is that within the last decade, Andover had a tax rate down around $24. We may never be able to get down there again, because life and philosophy of government have changed considerably since then, but we don't have to stay up where we are. No one who has to pay the bill will object this year if the tax rate is a dollar or so lower, and that goal can be reached if the taxpayers of this town decide to get behind only the necessary items.

MINISTERS URGE OBSERVANCE OF LENT

Editor of the Townsman:

The ministers of the Andover churches would like to remind the people of the community that Lent begins this year on February 7 (Ash Wednesday) and ends on March 24 (Easter Sunday). It is hoped that there will be a wider observance of the Lenten season and of Holy Week this year, and that no meetings or events will be scheduled for the evening of Thursday (March 21) in Holy Week or for the afternoon of Good Friday (March 22) which would conflict with the special services in the church at those times.

—Mrs. Nathan C. Hamblin sustained a compound fracture of her leg last evening while coasting with a number of friends on Morton street.

—Norman McLeish of North Main street left town last week for his former home in Dundee, Scotland. With fine speeches, bits of spicy art and humor, reminiscences of former days, stores of what the Grange stands for today, and a well-served supper: thus was the silver anniversary of Andover Grange, Patrons of Husbandry.

—Owing to the fact that the Equal Suffrage league last year took the initiative in regard to nominating a woman for the school board, it has apparently been expected that any move in that direction this year, would naturally come from the same organization. The members of the Suffrage league believe fully in the principle that five women, one elected each year, constitute the school board should be women, one elected each year, and they trust that this principle will appeal to the majority of the voters.

Students See Television Set In Operation

A complete television set was demonstrated here on Wednesday afternoon when Lewis Hoskins, scientist and investigator under the management of the School Assembly Service, presented his program with about a ton of apparatus, at a combined assembly of the senior and junior high schools in the Memorial auditorium.

Mr. Hoskins brought with him a large image screen—one of the largest in use in this country—and set up that and his projecting equipment so that all could see exactly how this modern miracle of communication works. He hopes in every audience to be able to pick up actual local objects and persons and project them on the screen so those present can see themselves and have the thrill that goes with it.

The General Electric company has plans for television broadcasts this year in certain sections of the Eastern seaboard states, and it is possible that Mr. Hoskins may be picking up commercially broadcast programs before his tour ends in June. Sets are already on sale in some of the metropolitan stores, but it will probably be some time before they are in general use.

Grand March A. W. O. L.

Grand March or no Grand March, the Policemen's annual concert and ball to be held in the Auditorium next Tuesday evening will not disregard the well established precedent of a "good time for all." Officer Carl Stevens is in charge of the variety program and he has made sure that there are specialties to please everyone. General dancing will be enjoyed from 9:00 to 1:00.

Ski Tales

If Telemarken had only been content to remain a district in Norway instead of spreading its influences among the winter resorts of the world in general and New England in particular, I would have offered no objection, but since it has become a contagion, I've decided, instructor or no instructor, to master even the most difficult maneuvers so that when he comes back...

Take the Gelandesprung for instance...It's just the thing for going over obstacles that you can't get around...that is if you can do it with ease and hardest of all, grace...otherwise you are apt to find yourself head first in the middle of the exact obstacle you had set your heart on avoiding...The fact that I can't gelandesprung has always been a sore spot with me and the more I try the sorer the spot gets...

Snow conditions last week were not too good for experiments...but hard packed and icy in spots...but Ronald and Edith Valentine seemed to be skimming down the slopes without fear, so I decided to throw my own scaredness to the winds...A big mistake...The rule book is absolutely whacky...You'd think all a person has to do is fasten his bindings securely to his boots...bend the knees and keeping skis flat on the snow, proceed his winding way down the mountain...In my case, my skis, which, persisting in assuming a position of verticality when according to all prescribed rules they should have been horizontal, threw me into a state of horizontality when, according to the same rules, I should have remained vertical...Better to watch more skilled wooden-winged artists and learn by their mistakes...Chris Haakenson is one of the latter...Working in New York has evidently not spoiled her liking of the great open spaces one bit...She came zooming down from the very top of Cranmore last Sunday as if she had written the handbook...Betty and Marie Holihan didn't seem to be finding it much of an effort either...Nor did Bernice Crockett...

Betty Pray, formerly of Lowell street, Midge Buchan and John Lowe were among the other skiers who did not seem to be suffering from the absence of powder snow...Mr. Utley and his camera were nowhere about and someone said he and Hans Schneider, the best man at the Romeo-Juliet wedding, had gone to North Adams...

Brad Holt and Richard Abbot, members of the recently formed Kinone ski club, were at Ossipee Mountain in East Waterboro, and Dick and Tom Davies, George Bancroft and Bob Kefferstan were at Franconia Village...Tyler Perry and Alvin Towne were at Laconia...Helen Foster received a knee injury over the week-end which will stem her skiing for a while...

You have to be a natural, I guess...or have a slave-driving instructor with steel edges...Oh, why does the government allow snow in Washington?

Cooling Off

The ground hog is a queer one...He crawls in his hole sometime in the fall (no one seems to care just when) and makes himself comfortable for a long sleep...He doesn't have to worry about the baker or the fruit man ringing his doorbell...he doesn't have a telephone...No new development is being built next door...He hasn't any bills due the first of the month, what's more he hasn't any bills...No wonder he sleeps so soundly and so peacefully...Then all of a sudden, just as if he had a luncheon engagement with Vivien Leigh, he gets all dressed up, pauses for one dramatic moment on the threshold while the whole world watches with bated breath, then he swaggers into the bright sunlight (if there is any) casts a coy glance over his shoulder at his shadow (if there is any) and if there is any, he turns around and goes back into his house for another six-weeks' nap...Nobody but a groundhog would chuck a peaceful slumber just to hunt around for his shadow...But still I suppose he's too vain not to take advantage of his superiority, for while meteorologists are trying to puzzle whether the forecast is to be "continued cold" or "slowly rising temperature," nobody really knows—but the Shadow.

People enjoying their supper in the Andover lunch recently were aghast to see a young man enter with a small victrola under his arm, order his supper, and calmly take out several records and play them...nor was a collection taken afterwards...

Mrs. Guy B. Howe will show the Winton club audience in Winchester this week just how "Baby Snooks" tantalizes her "daddy" in the annual benefit cabaret...The woodchuck can't hog all the spotlight this week...not without a Brice...

Thirteen Lawrence Clinics Available To Andover Patients

Free medical service of a most comprehensive sort is available to residents of Andover through the Out-Patient Department of the Lawrence General Hospital, whose clinics are open to residents of Andover, North Andover and Methuen as well as of Lawrence. This fact was brought out by Miss Angie Richardson, Social Worker at the Lawrence General Hospital, in a talk to a group of League of Women Voters members at the final meeting of the study group on "Health Insurance," Monday afternoon, at the home of Miss Helen Chickering.

Patients must be referred to these clinics by a doctor, their minister or priest, or any interested person. In each of the thirteen clinics, the services of staff doctors and surgeons of the Lawrence General Hospital are given free. In four clinics, the Orthopedic, Cardiology, Dermatology and Psychiatry, the services of a consultant specialist from Boston are available free of charge to those who cannot pay. The group was interested to learn that, although the services of the free clinics are open only to those who cannot afford to visit a doctor, anyone may make a private appointment with one of the Boston specialists while he is at the hospital, for a $5 fee.

Two clinics, the Pediatric, for children under twelve, and the Allergy clinic, have been newly started this year with great success. One of the most interesting of the clinics is the Kenison Neurological, supported by the Rotary Club of Lawrence, where treatment is given children with birth deformities under the direction of two consultants who come out from the Children's Hospital in Boston. In the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Clinic, glasses are prescribed for those who need them, and obtained through the doctors from reliable opticians at cost. Tonsil operations for needy children under twelve years are given for as little as $6.

Miss Marie Campbell, the Andover Red Cross Nurse, and Mrs. Sawyer Johnson, the Andover District Nurse, told the group about the Andover baby clinic, held at the Guild on the first and third Tuesdays in every month. This clinic, supported by the town and served by Dr. Blake and Dr. Look, treats only Andover babies. The average attendance at each clinic is twenty-five babies, which is a high average for a town the size of Andover.

The maid of honor, Miss Martina Kenyon, wore blue taffeta with matching shoulder length veil. Her bouquet was pink roses. The bridegroom's two sisters, Misses Mary and Helen Delaney, were also gowned in taffeta, one in aquamarine and one in rose, with matching shoulder veils. Both bridesmaids carried talisman roses.

Clarence Delaney, brother of the groom, was the best man and Raymond and Earle Morris, brothers of the bride, were the ushers. Miss Lorraine Ayrton was the soloist and Miss Marion Kennedy, the organist.
